TAFT PARRIES SOME QUESTIONS

ecretary's train in Ogden.

From this the distinguished secretary

From this the distinguished secretary went on and on, talking on the proposed development work, which he hopes to further in the island possessions. His talk was ingenuous and the smile of the talker was bland and childlike. Judging simply by the talk and the smile, the secretary has never heard that his name had been mentioned as the next presidential canditate on the Republican ticket.

During the course of the talk with newspaper men, however, the secretary parried every effort to draw him into a discussion of such a possibility, and his parrying was so evident that it was easy to surfnise that he has heard of the matter.

The sneeded train pulled into the hopes to further and on, talking on the proposed to further work was to day.

In reply to a question about the possi-lity of his becoming secretary of state, a said: "I do not expect to become cretary of state. I know nothing about the president's plans on that. I tele-aphed asking him for instructions when heard of the death of Secretary Hay and as told to continue the trip. Great prep-ations for this trip have been made and a are going to make it. We will be ab-nt until some time in September." Here the secretary gave an account of the timsent until some time in September. Here the secretary gave an account of the itinerary of the proposed trip and continued:

In speaking of the Philippines, Mr. Taft said: "The best report I have yet heard from there is this: The number of school children has increased in the past seven months from 382,000 to 521,000 in a population of 1,600,000 children of school lowing were." seven months from 362,000 to 521,000 in a population of 1,600,000 children of school age."

He was considerably interested in the Lucin cut-off and recalled that trains were not running over it a year and a half ago, when he went through Ogden yards than a squad of men, trained as thoroughly as any company in the army, went to work to put the train in condition to proceed on its journey. Every wheel and coupling on each of the nine cars was inspected and tested. Another squad supplied ice, fresh water and other necessaries to the cars, another realn crew and another engine were taken on, and in just half an hour the party started on westward. There was but a small crowd at the depot, and considerable interest was manifested in Miss. Alice Roosevelt, who appeared with other ladies in an inconspicuous manner. Just as the train was pulling out of the depot at train was stopped and he was hauled off with a suddenness that dazed him. He was turned over to Officer Al Herrick, whauled him to the police station. He sooked on a charge of drunkenness. He is of the opinion that he "butted in" to the wrong crowd, as he thought he was boarding the regular train.

Committed to the county fail. Assistant County Attorney Willard Hansen configures than a week after the tragic death of William G. Ence of Central, another citizen of that place has met with death in a similar horrible manner. Last Saturday afternoon John H. Waters was thrown from his wagon in Clear Creek canyon and received injuries from which he died shortly afterward. He was going to Kimbertly with a heavy load of baled hay. At one little stream crossing there is a pitch to the bridge and the bridge is somewhat elevated, which always gives a wagon going at any speed quite a jolt. As Mr. Waters' wagon was going down the pitch, he grabbed the brake rope to steady the wagon and when the front wheels struck the edge of the bridge he had not quite regained his seat securely. He lost his balance when the jolt came and pitched off the load of hay in front of the wagon. Both front and hind wheels of the wagon passed over his body near the kidneys.
